

I am writing on behalf of the DigitalCommons@Fairfield repository (<http://digitalcommons.fairfield.edu>) and [insert faculty member name here]. The institutional repository is a service of the DiMenna-Nyselius Library at Fairfield University for academic authors, providing open access to the full-text of their publications. All content includes full bibliographic details, a copyright notice, and a link back to the publisher or journal homepage, if requested.

I'm writing to seek your permission to include the final publisher PDF version of this article in our repository:

- [insert citation here]

Kindly contact me (at digitalcommons@fairfield.edu) to give your permission for including the article in DigitalCommons@Fairfield. Please also include any further requirements you may have. In the event that the final PDF version is not permitted, please consider granting permission for us to include the author's post-print.

If you do not solely control copyright in the requested materials, I would appreciate any information you can provide about others to whom I should write, including most recent addresses if available.

Thank you for your consideration of this request--I look forward to your reply.

Sincerely,
Nina Peri
